

Dear student,

We understand that students are concerned about Coronavirus and we are following Government advice carefully. The University is open and please continue to attend lectures and other classes as normal. We are working hard to make course materials available online, and as soon as your course is available digitally your school/institute will let you know.

We realise students and staff are worried and we will be communicating with you frequently by email and text message. In the meantime, please check our advice online and if you have any questions contact your school/institute or the student enquiry centre.

Associate and exchange students

If you are a Queen Mary student currently studying on an Exchange programme overseas you should continue to follow the guidance from your host institution. If you have any questions please contact goabroad@qmul.ac.uk.

If you are an Associate Student currently studying at Queen Mary as part of a Study Abroad or Exchange programme, please continue to attend your classes. We are in touch with all of our partner universities overseas to make them aware of our current position.

Students who have travelled recently

Some of you may have travelled during reading week. If you have recently returned from Iran, Italy and South Korea, and Hubei province China you are now advised to self-isolate even if you do not have any symptoms. Please let your school/institute know if you are in this position and email studenthealth@qmul.ac.uk. See the UK government guidance for returning travellers for details of the affected areas. It is very important you follow this advice to help keep you, and everyone else, safe.

What should I do if I think I am affected?

If you have recently returned from one of the areas above and have symptoms of Coronavirus, you must email studenthealth@qmul.ac.uk, call NHS111 and isolate yourself unless and until you are told that you do not need to self-isolate. If you have any other concerns, about yourself or others, please email studenthealth@qmul.ac.uk.

If you have a field trip coming up

Please contact your school or institute for the latest information.

I will be contacting you again shortly. In the meantime, if you have any questions, please contact your school, institute or the student enquiry centre.

Best wishes,

Stephanie

Professor Stephanie Marshall
Vice-Principal for Education